

Contemp Final Exam - Study Guide

In your preparations for the final exam please give special attention to the items given directly below along with the 74 terms that follow (Quizlet linked on 8b). In the items below, you will find statements and questions. The statements are things to remember for the exam. The questions require that you revisit something from your notes or readings.

This exam will be taken on your laptop on Blackboard using the Lock-down Browser.

Qualification for extended time can be arranged with the AEC prior to the exam date.

Everything referenced in this guide could appear on the test as some kind of multiple-choice or essay question. The majority of the questions will simply ask you to select the correct/best answer(s).

1. Theology and Apologetics

- Know what McGrath says about the importance of Theology for Apologetics (pp87-96 of McGrath, Selections from The Passionate Intellect).
- Know St. Augustine's phrase, "Our hearts are restless until they rest in thee." And, Anselm's definition of theology — "faith seeking understanding".
- What does John 17:3 say eternal life is?
- What are we created/saved for according to John 17:21?
- Know Tim Keller's introduction thesis on the polarization of views.
- What is apologetics and where does the word come from? Distinguish negative and positive apologetics.
- What is the significance of 1 Peter 3:8-17 for the Christian discipline of apologetics? What attitudes and dispositions are required of those called to give the reason for their hope?

2. Incarnation & Trinity

- Be familiar with the main themes of Michael Reeves' Delighting in the Trinity.
- What reasons are there for thinking that the tri-unity of God is an essential Christian doctrine? And what does it tell us about the nature of God?
- Know that historical orthodox formulation of the doctrine of the Incarnation is that Christ is "one person with two natures". Know that the historical orthodox formulation of the doctrine of the Trinity is that God is "one being in three persons."
- Recall Oliver Crisp's point that the incarnation of Christ makes possible a special human union with God by means of a participation offered to us in the redeemed humanity of Jesus (1 Cor. 15:22 "For as in Adam all die, so also in Christ shall all be made alive").
- Why is it important to affirm both the full divinity and the full humanity of Christ?
- Know what Oliver Crisp says is the importance of the incarnation (8b reading, "By His Birth, We Are Healed").
- What is Kenoticism or Kenotic Christology as taken from Phil 2:5-11?
- Know that stressing the three-ness of the persons of God becomes heretical if it involves thinking of God as 3 different beings, and stressing the unity of the nature of God becomes

Considerable research in the past 30 years has accumulated regarding the academic and social functioning of youngsters with disabilities. Only in the past decade has there been sufficient special education research published from which meta analyses and syntheses can be conducted. In this volume seven sets of authors grapple with synthesizing the knowledge base on an array of critical topics in the field of special education. Among others specific chapters include a synthesis of what is known about effective instructional grouping practices for reading an examination of the differences between students classified as learning disabled and other low achieving students on a range of academic performance measures a review of effective instruction for English language learners an examination of the research on behavioral supports for low incidence special education populations a synthesis on how technology supports literary development across the full spectrum of disabilities categories. These papers provide up to date informative summaries of current knowledge and a base from which further venture into the critical area of instructional intervention in special education can occur.
