

Chapter 10

Congress

Section 1

The National Legislature

Two Houses of Congress

The Constitution creates a bicameral legislature for three reasons:

Historical: The British Parliament consisted of two houses since the 1300s, and many colonial assemblies were similar in form.

Practical: A bicameral legislature was necessary to compromise the Virginia and New Jersey plans of representation.

Theoretical: The Framers favored a bicameral Congress in order that one house might act as a check on the other.

Terms

A term is the length of time that officials serve after an election, as in a two- or six-year term.

- The date for the start of each new term has been set by the Twentieth Amendment (1933) as "noon of the 3d day of January" of every odd-numbered year.

Sessions of Congress

A session is the regular period of time during which Congress conducts business.

- Congress adjourns, or suspends until the next session, each regular session as it sees fit.
- If necessary, the President has the power to prorogue, or adjourn a session, but only when the two houses cannot agree on a date for adjournment.
- Only the President may call Congress into a special session—a meeting to deal with some emergency situation.

Section 2

The House of Representatives

Size and Terms

- The exact size of the House of Representatives, currently at 435 members, is determined by congress.
- The Constitution provides that the total number of seats in the House shall be apportioned (distributed) among the States on the basis of their respective populations.
- Members of the House of Representatives serve two-year terms.
