Journal of Education , 1902 New England Journal of Education Thomas Williams Bicknell, Albert Edward Winship, Anson Wood Belding, 1902

Science Education in the Arab Gulf States Nasser Mansour, Saeed Al-Shamrani, 2015-04-27 The book introduces the development of science education in the Arab Gulf states and presents a critical analysis of current issues and concerns in educational research in science education The key purpose is to provide some perspectives on the state of science education in Gulf and to share experiences with international scholars about the impact of the innovations and reforms implemented in science education in Arabian Gulf But Science Education in the Arab Gulf States also intends to present new visions and to make suggestions and recommendations about the contribution of science education to prepare students in the knowledge age The volume is organised into three main sections The first section addresses the current practices and challenges in science education in some of the Arab Gulf states This section sheds critically the light on the challenges and problems that hinder or constrain the implementation of innovations in science education The second section analyses the science educational reforms and innovations that are being implemented in the Arabian Gulf This section presents experiences and research with using new approaches to teaching and learning in science classrooms in some of the Arab Gulf states The third section discusses the socio cultural issues that have impacted on shaping and reshaping the science education in the Arabian Gulf This section focuses on exploring the socio cultural factors that influence engagement and non engagement in science education It also explores how socio cultural issues and contexts guide the reform of science education in the Arabian Gulf and presents various examples of how we can respond to cultural issues

Modern Mathematics Dirk De Bock,2023-03-08 The international New Math developments between about 1950 through 1980 are regarded by many mathematics educators and education historians as the most historically important development in curricula of the twentieth century It attracted the attention of local and international politicians of teachers and of parents and influenced the teaching and learning of mathematics at all levels kindergarten to college graduate in many nations After garnering much initial support it began to attract criticism But as Bill Jacob and the late Jerry Becker show in Chapter 17 some of the effects became entrenched This volume edited by Professor Dirk De Bock of Belgium provides an outstanding overview of the New Math modern mathematics movement Chapter authors provide exceptionally high quality analyses of the rise of the movement and of subsequent developments within a range of nations The first few chapters show how the initial leadership came from mathematicians in European nations and in the United States of America The background leaders in Europe were Caleb Gattegno and members of a mysterious group of mainly French pure mathematicians who since the 1930s had published under the name of a fictitious Nicolas Bourbaki In the United States there emerged during the 1950s various attempts to improve U S mathematics curricula and teaching especially in secondary schools and colleges This side of the story climaxed in 1957 when the Soviet Union succeeded in launching Sputnik the first satellite Undoubtedly this is a landmark publication in education The foreword was written by Professor Bob Moon one of a few other scholars to have written on the New Math from an international perspective The final epilogue chapter by Professor Geert Vanpaemel a historian draws together the overall thrust of the volume and makes links with the general history of curriculum development especially in science education including recent globalization trends
