Arguing with Numbers James Wynn,G. Mitchell Reyes,2021-04-15 As discrete fields of inquiry rhetoric and mathematics have long been considered antithetical to each other That is if mathematics explains or describes the phenomena it studies with certainty persuasion is not needed This volume calls into question the view that mathematics is free of rhetoric Through nine studies of the intersections between these two disciplines Arguing with Numbers shows that mathematics is in fact deeply rhetorical Using rhetoric as a lens to analyze mathematically based arguments in public policy political and economic theory and even literature the essays in this volume reveal how mathematics influences the values and beliefs with which we assess the world and make decisions and how our worldviews influence the kinds of mathematical instruments we construct and accept In addition contributors examine how concepts of rhetoric such as analogy and visuality have been employed in mathematical and scientific reasoning including in the theorems of mathematical physicists and the geometrical diagramming of natural scientists Challenging academic orthodoxy these scholars reject a math equals truth reduction in favor of a more constructivist theory of mathematics as dynamic evolving and powerfully persuasive By bringing these disparate lines of inquiry into conversation with one another Arguing with Numbers provides inspiration to students established scholars and anyone inside or outside rhetorical studies who might be interested in exploring the intersections between the two disciplines In addition to the editors the contributors to this volume are Catherine Chaput Crystal Broch Colombini Nathan Crick Michael Dreher Jeanne Fahnstock Andrew C Jones Joseph Little and Edward Schiappa

Thinking and Acting Systemically Alan Daly,Kara Finnigan,2016-05-19 This volume argues that districts are important as a lever for change given the limited success of school by school efforts Policies that focus on skill development recognize and support performance create opportunities for collaboration build leader capacity and create networks of knowledge sharing hold great potential for improving districts but it will require a paradigm shift in the way we view our public school system and those who work within it away from blame and toward complex systems change Educating for the 21st Century Suzanne Choo,Deb Sawch,Alison Villanueva,Ruth Vinz,2016-10-20 All over the world governments policymakers and educators are advocating the need to educate students for the 21st first century This book provides insights into what this means and the ways 21st century education is theorized and implemented in practice The first part Perspectives Mapping our futures in the making uncovers the contradictions tensions and processes that shape 21st century education discourses The second part Policies Constructing the future through policymaking discusses how 21st century education is translated into policies and the resulting tensions that emerge from top down state sanctioned policies and bottom up initiatives The third part Practices Enacting the Future in Local Contexts discusses on the ground initiatives that schools in various countries around the world enact to educate their students for the 21st century This volume includes contributions from leading scholars in the field as well as educators from schools and those working with schools The Trials of Evidence-based Education Stephen Gorard, Beng Huat See, Nadia Siddiqui, 2017-06-26 The Trials of Evidence based Education explores the promise limitations and opportunities of evidence based policy and practice as the attention of funders moves from a sole focus on attainment outcomes to political concern about character building and wider educational impacts The results and implications of over 20 studies conducted by the authors are combined with large number of studies from systematic reviews and their implications are spelled out for the research community policy makers schools wanting to run their own evaluations and practitioners using evidence in this well structured and thoughtful text The Game Believes in You Greg Toppo, 2025-06-25 What if schools from the wealthiest suburban nursery school to the grittiest urban high school thrummed with the sounds of deep immersion More and more people believe that can happen with the aid of video games Greg Toppo's The Game Believes in You presents the story of a small group of visionaries who for the past 40 years have been pushing to get game controllers into the hands of learners Among the game revolutionaries you'll meet in this book A game designer at the University of Southern California leading a team to design a video game version of Thoreau's Walden Pond A young neuroscientist and game designer whose research on Math Without Words is revolutionizing how the subject is taught especially to students with limited English abilities A Virginia Tech music instructor who is leading a group of high school aged boys through the creation of an original opera staged totally in the online game Minecraft Experts argue that games do truly believe in you They focus inspire and reassure people in ways that many teachers can't Games give people a chance to learn at their own pace take risks cultivate deeper understanding fail and want to try again right away and ultimately succeed in ways that too often elude them in school This book is sure to excite and inspire educators and parents as well as provoke some passionate debate Sick Schools David V. Anderson, 2020-01-10 Who's afraid of for profit education Those who work in non profit or government owned and operated schools Many parents and other stakeholders have been made fearful by this education establishment What's more important to humans nutrition or education Nutrition is more important because it is the prerequisite for other human activities including education What organizations provide food and who pays for the food Food is provided by for profit farmers for profit processors for profit wholesalers and for profit retailers Most food is purchased with the consumers own money but a significant amount is purchased by low income individuals using food stamps Why can't education be provided similarly using education stamps We trust for profit enterprises to provide our food Why can't we trust for profit enterprises to provide K 12 education Fearmongers have frightened us and made us into gullible compliant socialists who despise commercial activities in education Go to the supermarket and ponder its marvelous array of foods and then contemplate how a for profit K 12 education sector would please and amaze its customers Education in China and the World Zhuolin Feng, Qi Wang, Niancai Liu, 2024-11-14 This open access book is the second edition of Education in China and the World Achievements and Contemporary Issues It builds upon the commitment to provide a comprehensive analysis on education in China to a global audience Focusing on seven education segments from basic to post secondary education this edition draws on the latest literature official data and statistical resources to reflect the trends and development in Chinese education Based on the groundwork built previously this edition further explores the excellence index to assess Chinese education as compared to its international counterparts It also provides updated influential case studies of educational practices and inspiring educators and renews a comprehensive literature review on current research and national policy to support the development of a modern education system with Chinese characteristics and global standards The featured analysis in this edition highlights China's significant growth in education attainment and research output underscored by substantial government support Concurrently the analysis also reveals disparities in quality performance particularly in educational resource allocation It calls for further efforts to promote academic excellence and to address public educational needs comprehensively This book serves as a valuable resource for students scholars and policy makers in the field of education studies as well as readers who are interested in Chinese education
