

Chapter 11 Mini-Case

Shelley Coutts, the owner of Conch Republic Electronics, had received the capital budgeting analysis from Jay McCanless for the new smart phone the company is considering. Shelley was pleased with the results, but she still had concerns about the new smart phone. Conch Republic had used a small market research firm for the past 20 years, but recently the founder of the firm retired. Because of this, she was not convinced the sales projections presented by the market research firm were entirely accurate. Additionally, because of rapid changes in technology, she was concerned that a competitor could enter the market. This would likely force Conch Republic to lower the sales price of its new smart phone. For these reasons, she asked Jay to analyze how changes in the price of the new smart phone and changes in the quantity sold will affect NPV of the project.

Shelley has asked Jay to prepare a memo answering the following questions.

1. How sensitive is the NPV to changes in the price of the new smart phone?
2. How sensitive is the NPV to changes in the quantity sold of the new smart phone?

relevant point in the case not in a separate section or in another book The author team has used several longitudinal cases spread over a 15 20 year period The longitudinal cases are supported by some new non longitudinal cases selected from award winning cases associated with the LRP Journal and the Gate2Growth Academic Network We feel such an emphasis on cases is a novel feature The theory is explained using a range of modern didactic methods not usually found in competitive offerings Examples include colour coded and highlighted links from the theory to the case questions inside each theory section with model answers and unanswered questions to test the student s grasp of the concepts The book features a mixture of cases from short specific to academically challenging ones Too often superficial cases are placed at the end of chapters in strategy theory books They are picked to emphasize the topics of the preceding chapters The result is spoon feeding with little need or motivation to provoke individual thought or learning The cases in this book are comprehensive approximately 20 pages in length with ample quantitative and qualitative data thus forcing a modicum of effort from the student Shorter cases are also included for ease of understanding and instructor flexibility Another differentiating feature is the emphasis on diversity hence the use of European as opposed to US based cases     Supervisor's Survival Kit Elwood N.
