Peacekeeping and the Asia-Pacific Brendan Howe, Boris Kondoch, 2016-10-11. Peacekeeping and the Asia Pacific explores the politics, challenges, and future of UN peacekeeping operations from the Asia Pacific. The first section looks at contributions from the sub-regions: Northeast Asia, Southeast Asia, and South Asia. The second section of the book looks at individual country case studies including Australia, Solomon Islands, Japan, and Thailand. The third and concluding section consists of a theoretical summary on the central conceptual theme of Asian motivations for PKO contributions. This content was originally published in vols 18, 3, 4 and 19, 3, 4 of the Journal of International Peacekeeping. Encyclopedia of International Peacekeeping Operations Oliver Ramsbotham, Tom Woodhouse, 1999-05. Encyclopedia of International Peacekeeping Operations analyzes the broad national, regional, cultural, and international contexts of peacekeeping. Special focus is placed on such contemporary issues as human rights, peacebuilding, from below conflict resolution theory, civilian peacekeeping, gender considerations, and women in peacekeeping. The coverage is enhanced by a chronology, charts, maps, a list of acronyms, an annotated bibliography, and references to key websites. The Challenge of Stability and Security in West Africa Alexandre Marc, Neelam Verjee, Stephen Mogaka, 2015-06-19. Since independence, the West African sub-region has been an arena for a number of large-scale conflicts and civil wars, as well as simmering and low-intensity uprisings. Contrary to perceptions, West Africa in its post-independence history has experienced fewer conflict events and fatalities from conflict than the other sub-regions on the continent. The turn of the millennium has witnessed the recession of large-scale and conventional conflict, and it has ushered in new and emerging threats. The specters of religious extremism, maritime piracy, and narcotics trafficking threaten to undermine some of the progress achieved in recent years. The Challenge of Stability and Security in West Africa critically examines the key drivers of conflict and violence and the way in which they impact the countries of the sub-region. In addition to emerging threats, these drivers include the challenges of youth inclusion, migration, sub-regional imbalances, and extractives, as well as challenges related to the fragility of political institutions and managing the competition for power, reform of the security sector, and weakness of institutions related to land management. The book explores how the sub-region, under the auspices of the regional organization ECOWAS, has become a pioneer on the continent in terms of addressing regional challenges. The Challenge of Stability and Security in West Africa also identifies key lessons in the dynamics of resilience in the face of political violence and civil war drawn from Côte d'Ivoire, Liberia, and Sierra Leone that can be useful for countries around the world in similar situations. It incorporates knowledge and findings from leading experts and provides insights from academics and development practitioners. Finally, the book identifies possible policy and programmatic responses and directions for policy dialogue at the national and international levels East Asia, Peacekeeping Operations, and Humanitarian Assistance and Disaster Relief Catherine Jones, Garren Mulloy, 2021-11-29

Focusing on East Asia this collection explores the paradox of functional regional cooperation in the areas of humanitarian assistance disaster relief and UN Peacekeeping operations in a context of increasing regional tensions and threats East Asia comprising the states of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations and China Japan the Republic of Korea and the Democratic People's Republic of Korea is facing a range of human traditional climate and ideational threats In addressing some of these threats particularly those arising from climate induced disasters this region has been able to develop some ad hoc cooperative practices that according to functional logics of regional integration could lead to longer term sustained coordinated responses and even regional partnerships Similarly the region is increasingly contributing to UN peacekeeping operations where these states also cooperate in the context of an UN led mission Yet despite the potential for these interactions to lead to greater regional integration and coordinated action in responding to a range of security threats these interactions are increasingly taking place in a context of animosity both between regional powers and with extra regional powers This edited collection explores these functional interactions and posits conclusions about the potential for longer term sustained coordinated action These papers engage with a range of theoretical approaches in explaining the patterns of relations that are present in the region in relation to humanitarian assistance disaster relief and UN peacekeeping operations The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Australian Journal of International Affairs

Peace Operations Seen from Below Béatrice Pouligny,2006 In Peace Operations Seen from Below Beatrice Pouligny argues that much of what is being rebuilt in societies emerging from war or in some cases what is continuing to be destroyed often lies in the ordinary daily lives of both local populations and the staff of UN missions These on the ground realities are often overlooked by outsiders yet they may prove to be as important as political negotiations at the center debates in the UN Security Council or hearings before an International Criminal Court Central to Pouligny s study is the key role played by local interlocutors Her close analysis of several UN interventions based on first hand observation of how local people intermingle with UN soldiery and civilians sheds light on a neglected but crucial dimension of international peace enforcement BOOK JACKET
