Changing Childhood In Saudi Arabia Three Female Generations:

Changing Childhood in Saudi Arabia Hind Khaled Khalifa, 2001 Childhoods at the Intersection of the Local and the Global R. Ame, 2012-10-23

Childhoods at the Intersection of the Local and the Global examines the imposition of the modern Western notion of childhood which is now deemed as universal on other cultures and explores how local communities react to these impositions in various ways such as manipulation outright rejection and acceptance The book discusses childhoods in different regions of the world and boasts a range of contributors from several academic disciplines such as Sociology Social Work Education Anthropology Criminology and Human Rights who are experts on the regions they discuss The book argues against the notion of a universal childhood and illustrates that different societies around the world have different notions of childhood This book is recommended reading for students scholars and practitioners working with children in the Global South as well as internationally

A Society of Young Women Amelie Le Renard, 2014-06-25

The cities of Saudi Arabia are among the most gender segregated in the world In recent years the Saudi government has felt increasing international pressure to offer greater roles for women in society Implicit in these calls for reform however is an assumption that the only real society is male society Little consideration has been given to the rapidly evolving activities within women s spaces This book joins young urban women in their daily lives in the workplace on the female university campus at the mall to show how these women are transforming Saudi cities from within and creating their own urban professional consumerist lifestyles As young Saudi women are emerging as an increasingly visible social group they are shaping new social norms Their shared urban spaces offer women the opportunity to shed certain constraints and imagine themselves in new roles But to feel included in this peer group women must adhere to new constraints to be sophisticated fashionable feminine and modern The position of other women poor rural or non Saudi women is increasingly marginalized While young urban women may embody the image of a reformed Saudi nation the reform project ultimately remains incomplete drawing new hierarchies and lines of exclusion among women
