Economic 2012 Paper Zimsec Marking Scheme

Charles Mutasa, Mark Paterson

Economic 2012 Paper Zimsec Marking Scheme:

Africa and the Millennium Development Goals Charles Mutasa, Mark Paterson, 2015-10-29 This unique work by the Centre for Conflict Resolution CCR Cape Town South Africa tracks the progress Africa has made in achieving the United Nations Millennium Development Goals MDGs since 2000 Thirteen analytical chapters written by scholars and practitioners with expertise in the various areas covered by the eight MDGs are organized around the larger themes of political economy structural issues sustainable goals and human development goals They critically assess the progress that Africa has made towards the achievement of the MDGs discuss how to accelerate that progress and offer alternatives and recommendations in support of institutions in Africa that are engaged in promoting the achievement of sustainable development Throughout they examine the role of various actors including the African Union Africa's regional economic communities the United Nations the European Union etc civil society and other external development partners in light of their contributions shortfalls and viable options in shaping the continent's development agenda Together they provide a unique assessment from experts on the ground of whether the goals were a success and what remains to be done to achieve sustainable economic and human development in Africa

Confronting The Curse Cullen Hendrix, Marcus Noland, 2014-04-12 Countries blessed with abundant natural resources often seek financial and political power from their supposedly lucky status But the potentially negative impact of natural resources on development of poor countries is captured in the phrase the resource curse Instead of success and prosperity producers of gold oil rubber sugar and other commodities many in the least developed parts of Africa and Asia often remain mired in poverty and plagued by economic mismanagement political authoritarianism foreign exploitation and violent conflict These difficulties and the many challenges they pose for American foreign policy are the focus of this important new book Marcus Noland and Cullen S Hendrix review recent developments as poor countries struggle to avoid the resource curse but fall too often into that trap They call for support for international efforts to encourage greater transparency and improved management of natural resource wealth and for new partnerships between the West and the developing world to confront the curse

Routledge Handbook of Public Policy in Africa Gedion Onyango, 2021-12-30 This Handbook provides an authoritative and foundational disciplinary overview of African Public Policy and a comprehensive examination of the practicalities of policy analysis policymaking processes implementation and administration in Africa today The book assembles a multidisciplinary team of distinguished and upcoming Africanist scholars practitioners researchers and policy experts working inside and outside Africa to analyse the historical and emerging policy issues in 21st century Africa While mostly attentive to comparative public policy in Africa this book attempts to address some of the following pertinent questions How can public policy be understood and taught in Africa How does policymaking occur in unstable political contexts or in states under pressure Has the democratisation of governing systems improved policy processes in Africa How have recent transformations such as technological proliferation in Africa impacted public policy processes What are the underlying challenges and potential policy paths for Africa going forward The contributions examine an interplay of prevailing institutional political structural challenges and opportunities for policy effectiveness to discern striking commonalities and trajectories across different African states This is a valuable resource for practitioners politicians researchers university students and academics interested in studying and understanding how African countries are governed

Climate Change and Agriculture in Zimbabwe Mark Matsa,2020-09-03 This book proves through empirical research that indigenous and traditional agricultural communities have experienced severe climate change impacts and have developed corresponding livelihood strategies to strengthen their resilience in a variable climate With a focus on indigenous minority farming communities in the developing region of South Western Zimbabwe the study presents both qualitative and quantitative approaches of data analysis to assess sustainability problems amid climate change and climate variability challenges and proposes potential solutions In eight chapters the book expands on the scarce availability of community based research on climate change and variability in Zimbabwe The book is meant for college and university students and stakeholders involved in development work in rural minority farmer communities especially in climate change prone regions of Africa and other developing countries who have very few options of adaptation and mitigation Keeping the Republic

Christine Barbour,Gerald C. Wright,2016-11-19 This refreshed and dynamic Eighth Edition of Keeping the Republic revitalizes the twin themes of power and citizenship by adding to the imperative for students to navigate competing political narratives about who should get what and how they should get it The exploding possibilities of the digital age make this task all the more urgent and complex Christine Barbour and Gerald Wright the authors of this bestseller continue to meet students where they are in order to give them a sophisticated understanding of American politics and teach them the skills to think critically about it The entire book has been refocused to look not just at power and citizenship but at the role that control of information and its savvy consumption play in keeping the republic Annual Report Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas,2012

Agricultural Development and Food Security in Africa Renu Modi,Fantu Cheru,2013-08-08 The subject of food security and land issues in Africa has become one of increased importance and contention over recent years In particular the focus has shifted to the role new global South donors especially India China and Brazil are playing in shaping African agriculture through their increased involvement and investment in the continent Approaching the topic through the framework of South South co operation this highly original volume presents a critical analysis of the ways in which Chinese Indian and Brazilian engagements in African agriculture are structured and implemented Do these investments have the potential to create new opportunities to improve local living standards transfer new technology and knowhow to African producers and reverse the persistent productivity decline in African agriculture Or will they simply aggravate the problem of food insecurity by accelerating the process of land alienation and displacement of local people from their land Topical and comprehensive Agricultural Development and Food Security in Africa offers fresh insight into a set of relationships that will shape both Africa and the world over the coming decades Adaptive Collaborative Management in Forest Landscapes Carol J. Pierce Colfer, Ravi Prabhu, Anne M. Larson, 2021-12-12 This book examines the value of Adaptive Collaborative Management for facilitating learning and collaboration with local communities and beyond utilising detailed studies of forest landscapes and communities Many forest management proposals are based on top down strategies such as the Million Tree Initiatives Forest Landscape Restoration FLR and REDD often neglecting local communities In the context of the climate crisis it is imperative that local peoples and communities are an integral part of all decisions relating to resource management Rather than being seen as beneficiaries or people to be safeguarded they should be seen as full partners and Adaptive Collaborative Management is an approach which priorities the rights and roles of communities alongside the need to address the environmental crisis The volume presents detailed case studies and real life examples from across the globe promoting and prioritizing the voices of women and scholars and practitioners from the Global South who are often under represented Providing concrete examples of ways that a bottom up approach can function to enhance development sustainably via its practitioners and far beyond the locale in which they initially worked this volume demonstrates the lasting utility of approaches like Adaptive Collaborative Management that emphasize local control inclusiveness and local creativity in management This book will be of great interest to students scholars and practitioners working in the fields of conservation forest management community development and natural resource management and development studies more broadly The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
