Investigation 1

1. The company's traditional policy of selling an album to a store, whether the store had signed a contract or not, was discontinued.
2. All other things equal, increased prices would probably cause sales to decrease. Increased sales would tend to increase demand.

Investigation 2

1. The demand will probably increase because more customers are provided access.
2. Because they are young, they are more likely to be's music people' than older people. Because their higher buying rate is accompanied by lower rates, more customers may have had that need before and be satisfied by previous purchases. Their income/wealth might also indicate a higher demand for their music.

Investigation 3

1. shipped before the continuing demand, which caused the high demand and with the demand-based equipment such as laptop music will continue to work.
2. The demand will be more intense in the future, the company might change production to continue, which will help equipment, and during equipment the price will be more intense.
